

An Innovative Educational Design for Healing Wounded Men: Through the Eyes of Wounded Men, (Part II)

Abuse, Domestic Violence, Masculinity, Maltreatment, Psychology, Psychotherapy, Mental Health, Social Work, Education, Marriage & Family. Based on Dr. Herb Robinson's lifetime of facilitating human development and reconciliation for over thirty-five years served as a counselor for couples in conflict and their families, a college teacher in Philosophy, Art History, and Music History has developed credit and non-credit courses for colleges and universities, a researcher, writer, lecturer, and has over twenty years directing programs for court mandated men arrested for domestic violence, Through the Eyes of Wounded Men (part ii) : An Innovative Educational Design for Healing Wounded Men reaches far a field for many theoretical approaches for examining and understanding the phenomenon of masculinity, with a eye to integrating the many viewing lens into a unitary educational design that addresses the male wound and the most significant male problem, the inability to differentiate affect in interpersonal relationships. Herbs writing comes directly out of who he is in the world and is, in itself, a description of his personal journey as a man who was wounded and faced, no matter what the cost, his own healing processes. Dr. Robinson is his authenticity. This is his personal life journey, his statement of his current beliefs, understandings, and images, his summary of the best thinking and feeling and intuition around these critical male issues. M. John Roberts, Th.M., Ph. D.
