

Revolutions Other World: Communism and the Periphery, 1917-39 (Institute of Social Studies, The Hague)

Ken Post examines the turn to the East by the international communist movement in fostering world revolution after the success in Russia in 1917, which led to communism's greatest gains after the Second World War. Based on a theorisation of the building of revolutionary movements, this study critically assesses communist strategy and tactics using three key cases, China, India and Brazil, drawing out implications for possible future developments in less-developed countries.
